NEGOTIATIONS REACH DEADLOCK TENSION INCREASES IN CHINA SITUATION

Japan Startled By China's Stiff Attitude

BRITISH PRECAUTIONS

The great tension in Nanking and Shanghai continues as a result of the growing impression that Sino-Japanese negotiations have reached a serious impasse.

While official confirmation is lacking, well-informed sources, both foreign and Chinese, are agreed that Japan has been taken aback in a most unexpected way by the stiff attitude adopted by Nanking.

The British naval authorities have arranged to evacuate British women and children from Hankow and other Yangtze ports in the event of emergency.

The state of tension in Shanghai has increased following China's presentation of counter-demands, the result of which is that Sino-Japanese negotiations have reached a deadlock and it is generally agreed that anything may happen.

It is emphasised by the British authorities that the evacuation arrangements need give no cause for alarm as they are purely precautionary measures in view of serious tension in the Yangtze Valley.

Japanese circles estimate that there are about 70,000 Chinese troops between Shanghai and Nanking.

DEMANDS OUTLINED
London Oct. 2.—The "Evening Post" publishes a list of what is described as "Japanese requirements and Chinese counter-requirements."

The former include (1) autonomy of the five provinces in North China; (2) economic co-operation, including possible reduction of Chinese tariffs; (3) complete suppression of anti-Japanese movements; (4) dismissal of several Chinese leaders considered responsible for agitations against Japan; (5) joint action against communists.

Chinese requirements include (1) a free hand to deal with the administration in East Hopei; (2) suppression of smuggling by Japanese nationals; (3) withdrawal of surplus Japanese troops from North China; (4) non-interference of the Japanese Army in China's internal affairs; (5) cancellation of the Tangku-Shanghai trade agreement.

The newspaper adds that negotiations between General Chang Chun and Mr. Kawagoe ended in a tense atmosphere on September 22 shortly before the Hongkew outrage.

"I HAVE SLIT A COUPLE OF THROATS"

Razor Attack On Four Women

SOLDIER'S AMAZING ESCAPE

"I have slit a couple of throats."

These words were uttered by a British soldier when he walked into the Wanchai Police Station on a recent night. He had a razor in his hand.

When asked by the officer-on-duty why there was no blood on the weapon, the soldier replied, "I have cleaned it."

It was subsequently discovered that he had injured four Chinese women in the Wanchai district.

As a sequel to this amazing escapade, the soldier, William Gronert, a private in the Royal Welch Fusiliers, was brought before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon when committal proceedings were commenced.

Inspector A. E. Carey, of the Wanchai C.I.D., conducted the prosecution.

Gronert faced charges of malicious wounding of Chan Chan-ho, of 141, Wanchai Road; Chan Ying, of 1, Landale Street; and Chan Kam, of 28, Queen's Road Central; and common assault on Chan Ho, of 18, Arsenal Street.

"THAT'S HIM"

According to the case for the prosecution, Chan Kam arrived at Wanchai Police Station just before the police were about to commence investigations. She held her neck and pointing to Gronert said, "That's him" in Chinese.

DANCING INTRICACIES

Chinese Are Quick, States Pat Sykes

They See And Must Learn

That Chinese are quick to pick up steps at ballroom dancing is the opinion of Pat Sykes, holder of world championships when I saw her yesterday afternoon, busily engaged with her partner J. A. Andrew in putting pupils through their paces.

Their aptitude is remarkable, she states.

And for one reason only, she thinks.

They watch the feet most closely.

Even after an intricate pattern has been weaved on the floor by her and her versatile partner, a learner will come up and ask her if he has "got it" correct—go through the movement, with only a few mistakes. This is what astonishes Pat Sykes.

SCHOOLMASTER ACQUITTED

Sordid Kowloon Case Concludes

Appearing on remand before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon charged with having carnal knowledge of an eleven-year-old girl, Chan Lai-wo, 25, schoolmaster, was discharged. The complainant was Li Kwal-long.

The Magistrate held that there was insufficient material evidence against the accused to commit him for trial.

Mr. E. C. Brooks, for the prosecution, earlier on in the proceedings added a further charge of indecent assault on the girl.

Mr. Leo D'Almada, sen., appeared for the defendant who denied the accusations.

Dr. Solomon Ho gave evidence of having examined the girl. The complainant, recalled to the witness stand, testified that the defendant had interfered with her on five occasions.

Sak Wun-chung, schoolmaster, deposed that he had known the defendant for a long period. Regarding the girl's allegation that she was ordered to remain behind in the school when other pupils had left to put the seats on top of the desks, witness stated that all the pupils assisted in this work.

The defendant, said witness, had to his knowledge never given orders to any pupil to stay behind when school was over. On no occasion did the defendant's wife come to the school.

Det-Insp. Elston gave evidence of arrest.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Mr. Brooks asked his Worship to take a serious view of the case. The evidence of the girl alone, he said, was sufficient for committal. The girl had told a "straight-forward story which could not have been invented. Mr. D'Almada submitted that there was insufficient evidence against the defendant.

"ISLAMIS" VOYAGE

PASSENGERS' TESTIMONY

It is not by any means usual for passengers to show their appreciation of seamanship and service after a stormy voyage in a public manner as has been done by those who travelled on the s.s. "Islami" on her recent trip from Singapore to Hong Kong.

It is, therefore, of general interest to re-print the substance of an advertisement voluntarily inserted in the "Kung Sheung Yat Po," as follows:—

"In grateful acknowledgment of services rendered by Mr. Chan Hay Man, Comproadore of the s.s. 'Islami'."

On her last trip, from Singapore to Hong Kong the s.s. "Islami" encountered very heavy seas due to the presence of a typhoon, and as a result there was considerable danger to the passengers from the heavy seas and from the resultant movement of the cargo. During the whole of this period the Comproadore was most active in ministering to the passengers and especially to the women and children. He and his staff also worked throughout the night in restoring the cargo and generally putting everything in order. We, the undersigned passengers, wish to thank him gratefully for all he did for us.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE PLANNED FOR NANKING

Improvement Of Meat Supply

MODERN EQUIPMENT

Nanking: More sanitary pork, beef and mutton are promised to the local populace as the Nanking Municipal Slaughter House has laid down plans for improving the administration of meat supply in the capital.

Foremost in the improvement programme is the construction of a large butchery along scientific lines. It will be built outside the Hanchungmen gate on a lot of about 50 mow at a total cost of more than $100,000. Construction work will be started shortly and is expected to be finished by the end of this year.

The abattoir, when completed, will be one of the best in China. It will be equipped with a number of electric slaughtering machines, the use of which will not only speed up the operations but also mitigate the pain of the animals as well as a score of instruments for the detection of sick cattle. There will also be a special room to segregate sick cattle, a big stove to cremate rotten carcasses and a large cold storage to preserve meat.

EXAMINATION OF MEAT

For the examination of meat turned out by private shambles, a number of offices will be established in the city as well as at Hsichuan, Pukow, Shangsino, Hsiaoingsi and Shanchah outside the city.

The annual consumption of meat has been steadily increasing in the capital with the gradual increase of the population. Statistics show that while only 98,554 pigs, 12,998 oxen, and 5,384 sheep were slaughtered in 1931, the figures have jumped to 157,109 pigs, 14,768 oxen and 5,147 sheep during the current year.

The number of cattle slaughtered varies also with different seasons. In autumn and winter, an average of about 770 cattle are slaughtered daily, while in spring and summer a slightly smaller average is recorded.—

It is announced.

The project will cost one million dollars. Representatives of the Ministry of Railways and the three Railway Administrations, after making an inspection trip to Chuchow, decided to organize a special committee, consisting of one representative each from the Ministry and the three Railways, to take charge of the construction work.—

FIGHT AGAINST WHITE ANTS

Special Wood
Preservative

"SILVERTOWN"

The art of wood preservation can be traced back to ancient times. There is sufficient evidence to prove that the Egyptians as far back as 2000 B.C. employed some preservative agent, probably bitumen, on the wood used by them in constructional work.

Enormous damage is done even today by white ants and termites in spite of architectural advances in construction of houses, planning etc.

It is for this reason that we draw the attention of all to the special qualities of "Silvertown" special wood preservative.

Prevention is better than cure!

The "Silvertown" Wood Preservative is a special preparation of heavy coal tar oil with other ingredients. It has very little smell and gives an ornamental appearance to the wood, etc. For these reasons it is invaluable for the treatment of timber to prevent rot and decay in cases where impregnation with ordinary Creosote is inadmissible.

The Manufacturers are able, as tar distillers, to supply this preparation at a considerably lower figure than other similar preservatives now on the market.

Whereas ordinary paint merely coats the surface, "Silvertown" Preservative penetrates in the wood, stops up the pores, acts generally as an Antiseptic, and preserves the timber against the ravages of the white ant and the destructive influences of a tropical climate.

The colour imparted to the wood varies from a medium to a dark Oak stain.

Messrs. Pentreath and Company, Alexandra Building, are the local agents.

SEALING CLAMP FOR LEAKING GAS OR WATER MAINS

The ordinary lead joint for gas and water mains, the lead being run in to a socket against a hemp ring, while being simple to make is apt to fail when excessive ground movement occurs, a condition nowadays, when so much rebuilding and building is going on, by no means infrequent. The remaking or caulking of such a leaky joint is often a troublesome matter, and the Johnson clamp, has been developed as a readily-applied remedy by Messrs. The Victaulic Company, Limited, Dean Stanley-street, Millbank, London, S.W.1. The clamp consists of two flanges held together by bolts, the tightening of which compresses a strip of heavy section rubber composition up against the socket and containing the lead filling. The flange bearing on the packing is made with a recess to hold the packing and fits close to the spigot end of the pipe. The other flange is narrower as it has to fit the pipe socket. Both flanges are well ribbed to ensure stiffness and are made in segments, the number of which varies with the diameter of the pipe. The segments are connected by lap joints through which a bolt, independent of the tightening bolts, passes. The packing strip is continuous with a single butt joint. It will be clear that both the ring and flanges are easily put into place on an existing pipe. The clamp is made in a number of sizes up to 48 in. in diameter and after assembly can be covered, if

BRICKS MADE OF GLASS

Novelties At The Building Show

HOUSES WHICH ARE AIR-CONDITIONED

Those who wish to live in glass houses may now do so. Semi-vacuum glass bricks admitting 80 per cent. of the light are one of the most interesting novelties of the 20th biennial Building Exhibition, opened at Olympia recently by Earl Stanhope, First Commissioner of Works.

It is the largest ever held by the industry, which last year created a record by erecting buildings worth £114,000,000. Nearly 400 firms have taken stands, and a great amount of ingenuity has been employed in devices to improve the amenities of home life.

Sheltered behind her glass walls—which, though only one brick thick, keep out the cold as effectively as an ordinary nine-inch wall—the housewife of the near future will walk on floors floated on rubber to reduce noise.

From her kitchen she can see by television the goods she is ordering by telephone. She will wash dishes in a plastic sink coloured to suit her decoration scheme.

COLOURED GLASS

The air she breathes will be conditioned by a plant costing only £20. Her bathroom will be lined with coloured glass which can be bent round corners. She can listen to a radio set built into the mantelpiece and leave her house by a front door protected by a brick canopy cantilevered out to the almost incredible extent of five feet.

For the third time, the Housing Centre has co-operated with architects and technicians in an exhibition of "new homes for old." By posters and photographs it urges public opinion to demand that the rebuilding of Britain shall provide a more fitting background to the national life.

REDUCING NOISE

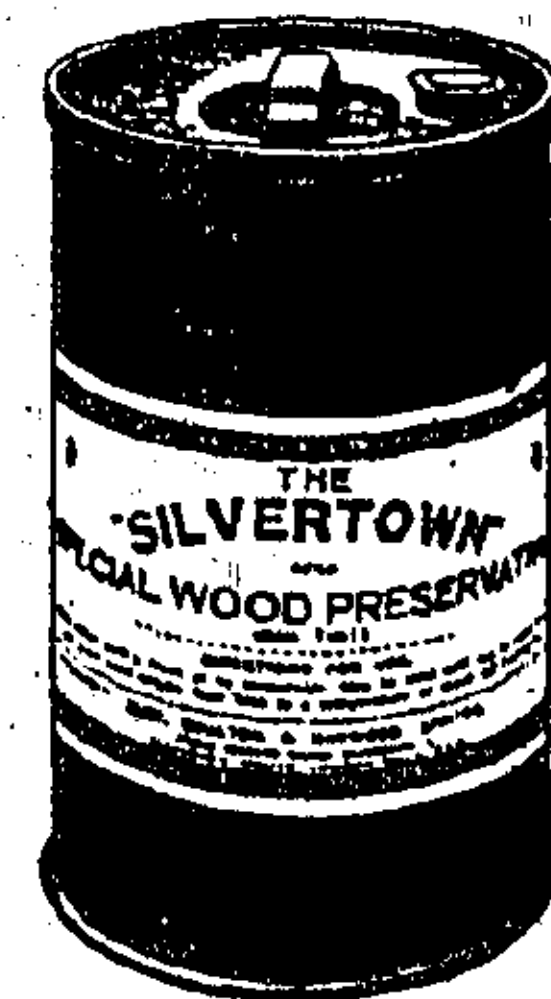

A series of pictures of haphazard and ugly development shows how chances are being missed owing to public apathy. Two-thirds of the population of Great Britain, it is stated, live in towns where the requirements of health, convenience and beauty have scarcely been considered.

The exhibition points out how, from infancy to age, planning and building can be improved.

Solutions of the noise nuisance are provided by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, which has installed working models to show the effect of sound insulation. By pressing a button and listening through a stethoscope one can hear differences in sounds in treated and untreated rooms.

desired, with moulded bitumen. It is stated that maintenance costs are considerably reduced by the use of the clamps. Another new product of the firm is a Johnson coupling flange adaptor, a device for coupling a plain-ended steel or iron pipe to the flange of a pump, or valve. It permits a small amount of misalignment or movement, thereby reproducing a characteristic of the standard Johnson pipe coupling which allows as much as 1 deg. deflection, and in this condition has been tested to a pressure of 1,000 lb. per square inch without leakage. This pipe coupling is supplied in diameters ranging from 2 in. to 85 in.

RELIGION, BROTHERHOOD, POLITICS

What Is The Solution?

BY SCRUTATOR

To-day men have seriously begun to suspect that religion is brotherhood and that brotherhood is politics; that religion which is not brotherhood is a lie, and that politics which is not brotherhood is murder. True religion and true politics are identical in aim—the establishment of the Kingdom of God on earth.

Despite the blood and confusion of modern wars the only real struggle at present being waged in the world is between those who know this to be the truth and those who while knowing it, for the sake of a cheap personal aggrandisement are determined to resist it. It is the Christian faith however, that brotherhood will triumph because it must; but that its eventual triumph will only succeed tribulation and famine, and perchance, after the desolation of a universal war, is no mere alarmist prophecy but a statement of very real probabilities. To save humanity from this, is the duty of every informed Christian to-day.

THREE WORDS

Quite recently we overheard a conversation between two young men, whose pride it is to be considered as intellectuals, they were discussing "the greatest thing in the world," and the sum total of the opinions of the one were epitomised in the magic word "Stalin," and of the other in the equally magic but more elusive word "money." These two words with the certain addition of the word "Mussolini" represent in cryptic statement the creeds most general in our day and generation. "Stalin," "money," "Mussolini"—what are they? What do they mean? Broadly interpreted, the meaning of them is to be found in the word "self." "Stalin" represents the selfish interests of one class, and the evils of class-warfare; "Mussolini" represents the selfishness and self-assertion of a bi-racial nationalism; while "money" is the superscription of the lives of the majority of people who live and die in the world to-day. Self, the determining factor in the world's life spells confusion, conflict, disaster; so long as it is predominant wars within the nations, and between the nations are inevitable. Economic individualism within the nation, means economic individualism between the nations.

You can never bring brotherhood into being by exciting anger and hatred or by bidding men follow their naked interests. Revolutionary politics based on self-interest, no matter how large the unit represented, can never create anything but evil. The supreme example of this is being demonstrated before our eyes in Spain where the Communist usurpation of power in the interests of the working-class alone has been followed by the Fascist attack of the "rebels." Each claims that it alone possesses the power and the programme to establish a successful government, and each is traitorous to the interests of the whole nation, being but gigantic forms of selfishness.

SYSTEMS CONTRASTED

That these assertions are true we have only to read the words of Senor Ortega, the civic governor of the Department of Guipuzcoa, whose headquarters are in San Sebastian. Speaking to Mr. Philip H. Bucknell, the famous British journalist and correspondent of "The Empire News," Senor Ortega said:

"I am not a Communist, but I do believe that the danger of Fascism is more acute than the danger of Communism. We will fight to the last man to resist the peril of a Fascist Government."

Senor Ortega's words are worthy of our deepest consideration. They are the statement of a man who sees his own loved country threatened by the two great anti-thetical systems of government which are creating a boding ferment all over Europe. They bring home to every honest mind the terrible threat to individual liberty and conscience, and to the well-being of the entire world which is inherent in Fascist national selfishness and Communist class-hatred.

The first divides the world into national economic individualities, and the second segregates mankind from one another on a basis of selfish class-interests, both are equally destructive of true politics and true religion as defined in terms of universal brotherhood.

True brotherhood is a union of free, thinking men and women, who admit the inalienable right of every living being to the best that life can provide. "Liberty, to know, to utter, and to argue freely, according to conscience" is surely the privilege of every individual who is conscious of his responsibilities as a citizen of the world, but such liberty is denied both by the existing type of Communism, as well as by the autocratic control which Fascism involves.

The life of self-interest and the life of imagination which brotherhood implies cannot exist together. There has never been any true vision of life which was not called Utopian, Plato's and Christ's included, because imagination, unselfish vision, always anticipates experience and the experience of mankind to date is an experience determined by selfish interests and ambitions.

SPAIN CITED

Men will even invoke the sanctions of religion in which they do not believe in order to further their own selfish schemes—the highest and holiest things of life are prostituted to the basest ends of selfishness. Here again we have a topical illustration in the Spanish conflict.

It is being argued in certain quarters that, the Fascist revolt, with all its accompanying atrocities and with its threatened further destruction of life and liberty if it succeeds, is an attempt of Christians to overthrow an atheistic communism. The only aspect of the rebel's whole programme which has the slightest association with religion at all is their promise to restore the prerogatives formerly enjoyed by the Catholic Church. This pious interpretation of a crudely selfish and unprecedently cruel and bloody revolution is the maddest historical effort to hoax the mind of mankind.

Christianity has nothing whatever to do with the motives behind the soul-shattering Spanish tragedy. Why, the irony as well as the falsity of the plea are most painfully obvious in the rebels' employment of Moorish soldiers of Mohammedan faith, whose own forefathers were deprived of their heritage and exiled from their homeland by those great protagonists of the Christian faith, Ferdinand and Isabella. That we should be asked to believe that the Moors are returning willingly to fight under a Christian banner for the triumph of a Christian cause, especially when that triumph means the establishment of an autocratic rule under which their own race once grievously suffered, is making what is already a pitiable and horrible national calamity, into an ugly insanity as well.

THE ONLY SOLUTION

To-day, religion can no longer masquerade in the panoply of war; if it attempts to hide therein it only stands, self-revealed as false and vicious; and politics which lead a nation into bloodshed and strife is at once suspect; it is irrational, unscientific, and madly evil. Christianity with its ideal of brotherhood and its dynamic of divine love wherewith that brotherhood can be attained, offers the only reasonable solution to the problems which are before the world.

"UNREALITY"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches to-morrow, October 4, will be "Unreality."

The Golden Text will be "Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities: all is vanity." (Ecclesiastes I. 2.)

Amongst others, the following citations from the Bible will be read, "I will sing of the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. In the fear of the Lord is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge. The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you, ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you; that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess." (Psalms 89. 1, 90. 4, 12. Proverbs 14. 26, 27. Deuteronomy 5. 32, 33.) The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook.

QUEEN MARY GOES TO MARLBOROUGH
HOUSE

London, Oct. 1.
The King who arrived in London from Balmoral this morning was accompanied by Queen Mary when she drove from Buckingham Palace this afternoon to take up her residence at Marlborough House. The Princess Royal was also with her. Immediately her Majesty had entered Marlborough House her personal standard was broken on the flagstaff. The King remained for sometime at Marlborough House, with his mother.

Years pass and the War is but a faint memory. The old and worn out Irela that was billed to appear in La Boheme at the London Opera House realises that her day is done—the crowd cheers and calls time and again, not for her but for Baba.

Theodore is waiting for in her dressing room—his wife was dead—and if she realises that their romance is dead and only a last-living affection—and respect is left—she refuses his offer of marriage—she leaves—this time forever.

Edward Sedgwick demonstrated his years of experience with screen comedy in such productions as "Doughboys" and "The Passionate Plumber" by deftly blending all of the situations to obtain the funniest farce he has ever directed.

"THE POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"

Shirley Temple in "The Poor Little Rich Girl" opens to-day at the Kings and Alhambra Theatres.

Shirley plays the title role. She is seen as the daughter of Michael Whalen, a wealthy young business man who is far too occupied making money to devote much time to his daughter.

Shirley persuades her father that she should be sent to a boarding school, where she can associate and play with other children. Whalen agrees, but instead of attending to the task himself, delegates Sara Haden to accompany her to the school.

Waiting for the train, Shirley wanders off. The busy sidewalks of New York lure on to adventure.

She is entranced by Tony, the organ grinder, and follows him to his home. Tony already has a large family but the new "bambina" soon wins him that he lets her stay with his children.

In the meantime, Miss Haden has been run over by an automobile and during the following days, Shirley's absence goes unreported.

Jack Haley and Alice Faye, an out-of-work vaudeville team, notice Shirley singing and dancing. Haley is inspired with the thought that she is just what the act needs, and despite Miss Faye's protestations, she is taken into the act.

The trio are successful in a radio audition and are hired by Claude Gillingwater.

"SPEAK EASILY"

Hilarious antics...high-speed action...and a bevy of beautiful chorus girls provide excellent entertainment in "Speak Easily".

Buster Keaton and Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy which is on to-day at the Majestic Theatre.

The two comedians sent the audience into screams of laughter at their mad-cap antics during a wild theatrical venture in New York City. Keaton portrays the millionaire college professor who finances the show and Durante is Jimmy, the eccentric piano player who is his companion through the venture.

The two comedians are assisted in their antics by Ruth Selwyn sparkling in the feminine lead as Pansy Peets, small-time chorus girl, and Thelma Todd, who exercises her alluring blonde wiles on Buster and "Schnozzle" with devastating effects. Hedda Hopper scores in a "mama" role as Mrs. Peets, jealous guardian of Pansy, and Lawrence Grant is convincing as Dr. Bolton. The balance of the cast who capably fill their roles includes Sidney Toler as the stage manager, Henry Armetta as Tony the acrobat, William Pawley and Edward Brophy.

Edward Sedgwick demonstrated his years of experience with screen comedy in such productions as "Doughboys" and "The Passionate Plumber" by deftly blending all of the situations to obtain the funniest farce he has ever directed.

WOMAN WHO CAN SELL ANYTHING

Is Now Britain's First Travel Saleswoman

MEN PRAISE HER

Britain's first travel saleswoman began work recently. She is Miss Audrey Shirliff, Chelsea, and she sells railway trips to women's organisations for the Great Western Railway Company.

Her men colleagues have every confidence in her, for she has earned for herself the reputation of being able to sell anything from antiques to advertising space. "If she can sell space to hard-boiled advertising men," they say, "she'll have no difficulty in selling excursions to women's organisations."

Miss Shirliff will visit works and factories in all parts of the country where women are employed to make suggestions for outings and excursions of every description. When she is commissioned to arrange an outing she will draw up the complete itinerary, including sightseeing, amusements, and catering.

"LITTLE MEN" CAUGHT BY NEW DECREE

The French Government's action in calling on all French banks to disclose the holdings of their customers abroad has already had its repercussions in London.

The investigation was anticipated, and little men—for example, congregees, tradesmen and city workers—have been rushing to London to seek the advice of London bankers.

These are the men who were not wise enough to bring their money to England personally; but exported it through French banks.

They have in most cases realised the hopelessness of their position and declared their secret exports, with a promise to return them to France at once. But such is the canniness of many Frenchmen when their money is jeopardised that London bank managers are expecting to see much of this money come back here again.

It is not expected that the French Government investigations will be thorough. The investigators are likely to be inundated with sheaves of documents—which would take months to examine. It is thought that they will merely make examples of a few people in an attempt to frighten the rest.

"£400,000,000 ABROAD"

The first effects of this new action have been slight. The strong rooms of London banks and safe deposits are stuffed with French-owned gold. The wise men, who are in the majority, brought their money from France without leaving a trace behind.

These men have made it quite clear that their money will not return to France until after devaluation.

One London bank manager who has been dealing with this traffic informed me—the "Evening Standard" representative—that he would not be surprised to see France's gold reserves return to the £1,000,000,000 mark soon after devaluation, so vast have been the

It correct, that means that £400,000,000 of French gold is abroad. The greatest proportion is believed to be invested in dollars.

Large sums, however, were invested by far-seeing Frenchmen in British industrial and mining shares from 1932 onwards and the withdrawal of that money may cause a temporary Stock Exchange slump when devaluation comes.

CAUTIONEDTraffic Summonses
Before Court

A caution was administered by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday when Dr. (Mr.) H. L. Carnaval, of Shell House, was summoned for causing an obstruction with her car in Pedder Street, on September 22.

Prosecuting, Sergt. Bethell, of the Traffic Department, said defendant parked her car outside Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., behind another car in the car park. Defendant had an appointment and was in rather a hurry, so she parked there.

A representative appeared to answer a summons against Dr. G. L. Russell, of the Hong Kong University, of having driven his car in Peak Road without permission on September 21.

A fine of $10 was imposed.

KOWLOON CASES

Mr. A. N. Braude, of the Hong Kong Telephone Company, was summoned before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for causing danger and obstruction to traffic by placing his car on the side of Castle Peak Road near the 15 mile stone, and immediately around a sharp left turn so that the car could not be seen by drivers until they had approached within 10 yards of it.

H. S. Worship imposed a fine of $5.

For driving without due care and caution on Castle Peak Road on Sept. 30, Mr. Beatham, of the Kai Tak Aerodrome, was fined $20. Traffic Sergeant McHardy stated that Mr. Beatham's car was following another car towards Kowloon and passed the car while going around a slow left turn. A car coming in the opposite direction saw Mr. Beatham's car coming around the curve in the centre of the road and had to draw to the edge and stop.

D. M. Fogg, driver of car No. 103, forgot to switch on his headlights while driving along Nathan Road three nights ago, and was summoned. He was fined $5.

E. Roza, driver of a car was summoned for driving along Nathan Road without any rear light.

Defendant was cautioned.

WOUNDING CHARGE

Appearing before Mr. S. F. Bal-four at the Central Magistracy yesterday on a charge of maliciously inflicting grievous bodily harm on Ho Ngok-ching, with a chopper at D'Aguilar Street on September 30 Chiu Fat, 24, sub-contractor, was remanded until Tuesday on the application of Detective-Inspector M. Murphy. The complainant is still in hospital.

Peers' "Ermine"
Is Sometimes
Rabbit

There are no peers' coronation robes "to let" at the moment. Famine prevails.

The nine robes which are the only ones known to have come on to the hire market have already been "let."

Nor is there much doing yet in the making of new robes. The expense is being postponed till the last moment.

Fantastic figures have been mentioned as the cost of hiring these robes—£200 to £300.

"A brand new robe costs no more than £35, and a new coronet £25," said Mr. W. Northam, the Henrietta-street robe-maker, who is supplying now for his third coronation.

"But in many cases it works out a good deal cheaper than that, because rabbit, or miniver, is used for the collar and cape instead of ermine. At a little distance it looks much the same as ermine—and the balls round the coronet are not always so silver as they appear."

Twenty-two yards of crimson velvet and 22 yards of silk go to the making of a coronation robe.

The robes worn at the opening of Parliament are quite different from those worn at a coronation. Parliamentary robes are made, not of the crimson velvet, but of scarlet cloth, and an ermine collar, not a full ermine cape, is worn.

The rows of black spots round the cape indicate rank. A baron has two rows, a viscount two and a half, an earl three, a marquess three and a half and a duke four.

AMAZING
STORYSuicide Attempt
That FailedABDUCTION OF TWO GIRLS

Intending to commit suicide a woman, Kwu Sul-king, 23, changed her mind, and abducted two girls to keep her company whilst she attempted to take her life.

Kwu Sul-king was tired of life because a few months ago, she was driven from her home in Singapore where she had been a concubine of a rich man.

Arriving at Hong Kong she boarded at one of the two girls' houses, the other girl staying in the same block.

Realising the eagerness of the two girls Chung Yee, 133, and Au Mui, 11, in doing what she told them, and not wishing to end her life alone, she got them to come with her part of the way.

She invited them to the pictures and also gave the parents tickets for the show.

On the night of September 29, the three went to Lai Chi Kok beach, and entered the water. A passing launch disturbed them and they returned to the beach and spent the night there.

The next day, walking along Castle Peak Road towards the frontier, they met a young boy, and told him that they were sisters looking for their father.

He took them to lodgings in Shamshuipo. The next morning Kwu Sul-king and the girls accompanied by the boy, went to a Buddhist nunnery near Castle Peak Road, where she told the nuns that she and the girls wanted to be nuns. They were refused, in the absence of guarantees, so Kwu Sul-king offered one of the girls as a maid, which was taken on condition that her parents were produced.

The four then passed the day wandering along the road. That evening the police found them and Kwu Sul-king was arrested. On hearing her story the police sent her for medical examination and it was found that she was of sound mind.

At the Kowloon Police Court yesterday, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen remarked that he considered the abduction of the two girls a very serious matter, for whatever Kwu Sul-king's intentions were, she had caused a lot of trouble to their parents.

"If, as it seems, your original intention was to commit suicide, you were deliberately risking the lives of these children as well," his Worship concluded, and sentenced the woman to six months' hard labour.

Det.-Insp. A. H. Elston prosecuted.

OPIUM POISONING

Chan Kwok-wong, 24, unemployed, was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from the effects of opium poisoning, alleged to be self-administered.

MOTOR MISHAP

Chan On, driver of a Kowloon motor bus reported to the police that while driving in Lai Chi Kok Road, a passenger, Wong Ching-fuk, 19, alighted while the vehicle was in motion and received head injuries. The man was taken to the Kowloon Hospital.

SUICIDE

The decomposed body of an unknown Chinese, about 40 years of age, found in Lugard Road, was removed to the Public Mortuary on Thursday. The cause of death was suicide, apparently by poisoning, as a letter was found near the body, which stated that the deceased was tired of life.

RADIATOR CAP
THEFT

Chan Ping-chiu, 28, unemployed, admitted a charge of stealing a radiator cap from a private car at Wongneichong Gap, when he appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday. Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was passed. Mr. E. C. Brooks, the well-known local solicitor, appeared as complainant, and Inspector B. Logan prosecuted.

NEW SHORT WAVE
BROADCAST
TRANSMITTERFor Listeners
Outside H.K.

It may be of interest to listeners outside Hong Kong to know that the present short wave transmitter which transmits on 34.29 metres or 8750 kilocycles is being replaced by another transmitter.

The new transmitter is built to transmit on any one of four defined wavelengths, the use of any particular wavelength will be governed by seasonal and international considerations, and will be indicated by the call sign used, which will be as follows:

Call Sign	Frequency	Wavelength
	k/c	m.
ZBW2	6090	49.26
ZBW3	9525	31.49
ZBW4	15190	19.75
ZBW5	17755	16.90

The transmitter is now on test most evenings between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. and is transmitting on 31.49 metres, i.e. 9525 kilocycles simultaneously with the present 34.29 metre transmitter.

The 34.29 transmission will cease as soon as the preliminary testing on the new transmitter is completed.

Reports on reception from outside listeners will be welcome, and should be addressed to:—The Secretary, Hong Kong Broadcasting Station, P.O. Box 200, Hong Kong.

SWATOW LETTER

Farewell Party At Customs Club

NEW OFFICIALS APPOINTED

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, Sept. 29.

A big gathering of members and friends assembled last Saturday night at the Customs Club when a hearty farewell party was given to six foreign members of the staff of the Chinese Customs, they being Mr. C. Asker, who is going home on long leave with his family, and Messrs. Chapman, Wallman, Masters, Ross and Kolachoff, who are being transferred to the north.

The lawn of the Customs Club that night presented the resemblance of a veritable fairyland, what with myriads of coloured lights here and there and everywhere. The entire decoration was ably and artistically carried out by Mr. A. Kestin, also of the Customs Service.

Mr. A. L. Newman, the Deputy Commissioner, in an appropriate speech, made ev'og'sic reference to Mr. Chapman's term of secretaryship during which, he added, the club was able to invest in a talkie machine and a refrigerator!

Much amusement was provided by Mr. Jekoff who drove in a ricksha and dressed as a chef. Russian grilled lamb meat was the novel feature of the buffet supper, and with stove and long forks he showed the gathering how to "do it." Dancing reigned supreme till the early hours of the morning. Altogether it was a most enjoyable evening.

RESIDENTS LEAVE

Miss Betty Brangwin, daughter of the well-known medical practitioner, Dr. C. H. Brangwin, returned to England a short while ago and was seen off as far as Hong Kong by her father.

Miss Telma Motia also leaves the port shortly to take up an appointment in Hong Kong.

Both of them are very popular members of the younger sex.

Mr. Powell has arrived to take up his new position with the A.P.C. Messrs. Chapman, Ross and Kolachoff of the Chinese Customs are being transferred to Tientsin, while Messrs. Wallman and Masters go to Shanghai and Chefoo respectively. Mr. Asker, accompanied by his family, will shortly proceed to Sweden on long leave and will be relieved by Mr. Wilding from Amoy.

Two more Chinese officials have been changed. Yu Yao Hua has been appointed Superintendent of Customs, while one Mr. Chang has taken over the duties of the Mayor of Swatow.

GAMBLING PETITION

The recent petition by the Hotels and Wine Tax Bureau for the rescission of the gambling order is still shelved. It is generally believed that mah jong may eventually be allowed. As to opium suppression, this cannot be effected till next year. The matter has to be very carefully studied and investigated in view of the numerous details and preliminary arrangements connected with it.

POLITICAL SITUATION

With regard to the political situation, although outwardly things seem very quiet a lot of Chinese anticipated Sino-Japanese troubles here as a result of the recent incident in Shanghai. I cannot see any reason for apprehension, except in "certain" localities policemen carry an additional rifle.

MOON CAKE FESTIVAL

Swatow, October 1.

The Moon Cake Festival has come and gone, and it cannot be said that it was celebrated with the same amount of enthusiasm as in previous years. Times are so bad that money cannot be so freely spent. Shopping was brisk in a way long before the date; compared to past years only 50 per cent. business was transacted on the who's. All Chinese shops were closed for the day.

THEFT AT FERRY WHARF

Shop Master Robbed Of $700

THREE CULPRITS SENTENCED

Appearing before Mr. Jams-worth, at the Kowloon Court yesterday, Cheung Ping, 26, Wong Yu Shun, 42, travelling trader, of 327 Portland Street, and Lam Chung-sing, 21, barber, were charged for robbing Lung Sun, 63, master of Wan Cheung Company, 24, Russell Street, of $700 at the Star Ferry, Kowloon, on September 28.

Mr. M. W. Lo pleaded guilty on behalf of the first defendant.

Inspector A. Kinnear said that complainant returned from Canton on the 7.45 p.m. express train on September 28, and going through the barrier, leading to the first class at the Star Ferry wharf he looked for his money and found that his pocket had been cut and that $700 was missing.

He reported at the Water Police station. On information received the third defendant was arrested at Shanghai Street. The defendant was then taken to Mong Kok where the second defendant was arrested and admitted receiving $75. He took the Police to 327 Portland Street where he produced $47.85.

Subsequently the first defendant was arrested and on being questioned, admitted picking the pocket of the complainant. He produced $40 from a basket.

The total amount of money recovered was $175.85.

The Police alleged that there was a fourth man connected with the case.

The first defendant admitted taking part in the robbery, but stated that he was persuaded by Ah Saam, who gave him $75 of the money.

Mr. Lo asked his worship not to take a serious view of the case as it was the defendant's first offence.

Inspector Kinnear pointed out that this nature of offence is reported to the Water Police at least twice a week.

First defendant was fined $30 or six weeks. Second defendant, having a criminal record was sentenced to three months. Third defendant was fined $30 or one month.

DINNER DANCE

A dinner dance will be held at Repulse Bay Hotel on Saturday, 3rd, October, 1936 at 8.30 p.m. and a tea dance on Saturday, 4th, October, 1936 at 4.30 p.m. Half hourly bus service on Sunday afternoon.

GOOD TALKING TO HELP SALES

"Naice, Modom" Era Passing

"An assistant who is able to say just that little more than 'This is naice, modom,' or 'Very suitable' is quite a joy to near—whether we intend to purchase or not." Mrs. D. Ross, of Liverpool, told the Drapers' Chamber of Trade Summer School at Liverpool recently.

"The mind of woman—I do not say of man—has become more elastic and less conservative, and evidently fashion leaders and manufacturers have the opinion that she will try anything once."

"So, she has blossomed forth, in the stocking department alone, in to about 30 or 40 different shades—to say nothing of materials, makes, weaves, and weights."

"Employers in the main have themselves to blame for the general low standard of salesmanship at present existing."

"We are inclined to say, in engaging staff, that he or she is cheap and will get along all right in such and such a department. The assistant who is cheap from a monetary point of view, is very often

SEPTEMBER WEATHER

Brighter And Drier Than Usual

The mean temperature for the month was normal, viz. 81 deg.; it ranged from 91.1 deg. on the 13th to 70.0 deg. on the 27th. Rainfall totalled 12.38 ins. on 10 days, 2.27 ins. above the normal; of this amount 10.40 ins. fell on the 4th, 5th and 6th. The greatest fall in one day was 7.85 ins. on the 7th and the greatest fall in one hour was 1.74 ins. at 1 p.m. on the same day. Thunderstorms occurred on 3 days. Humidity was 76 per cent. or 2 per cent. below normal. Bright sunshine was registered for 224 hours against a normal of 189 hours, and the sky was 58 per cent. clouded or 2 per cent. less than normal. Generally speaking the month was brighter and drier than usual on account of the occasional prevalence of N.E. monsoon conditions, the heavy rain of the 4th, 5th and 6th being due to the passage of a depression to the South of the Colony towards Tong King.

expensive to the store engaging her.

"The tremendous competition which now exists between manufacturers, both foreign and British, to produce the best possible article at the lowest possible price, further emphasises the need for experienced selling."

"We have the cinemas to account for the educated taste in dress that even the very poorest people now possess. Selling is becoming more and more the job of the specialist, and is not the unskilled trade or profession it has generally been thought. The better educated type usually makes the best sales person."

Mrs. Ross was asked: "What would you do with a girl with no figure who wanted to go into the corset department?"

"These are the girls you need in the corset department, because a great percentage of your customers have no figure either," she replied.

HONG KONG, OCTOBER 3, 1936.

MEMORIAL TO A MONARCH

Memorials to monarchs have for many centuries followed precedent, with the result that the world to-day possesses more equestrian statues on heroic lines than anyone has ever cared to count.

With the official announcement that the Hong Kong memorial to our late King will take the form of two public playing fields, the leaders of the Colony are properly breaking with precedent, as has been done in Britain when the form of the nation's memorial to a beloved Ruler was decided there. In other parts of the Empire, however, the form that the memorial should take has not been decided so easily or expeditiously. Some insist upon clinging to precedent, and crowded cities will be still further crowded with statues which will doubtless gain in formality what they lack in sentiment.

Hong Kong's memorial decision should receive the whole-hearted support of every member of the community, for the two proposed playing areas will constitute living reminders to many thousands of the beneficent reign of a Monarch whose life-long devotion was happily reflected in the hearts and minds of all classes, colours, and creeds.

Keenly solicitous for the personal welfare of those whose lot was cast in the more densely populated areas of his far-flung Domain, the late King George was ever eager to further the worthy endeavours of those public-spirited subjects who devoted themselves to the improvement of the health of the people by providing means for proper and purposeful exercise. Playgrounds associations, and other organisations which sought to reclaim crowded areas for reserves and parks, always found in the late King a Patron whose enthusiasm was a genuine inspiration.

It is, therefore, most appropriate and eminently worthy that in this Colony, where the need for adequate recreational reserves for the masses is truly great, the memorial to our late Monarch should take the form, as outlined in the official statement, for an area in Victoria and another in Kowloon.

Doubtless there will be those who will find some aspect to criticise, either in the form adopted or in the proposed locations. It is not to be presumed

KING'S MEMORIAL PLAYING FIELDS FOUNDATION PROPOSED

To the Editor, Dear Sir,

The announcement of the Administration's decision to create two playing fields for the public as a memorial to the late King will, I feel sure, evoke public applause. Whilst not wishing to adopt the role of a carping critic, but with a genuine desire to assist in the development of the Colony's amenities, I would suggest that the King's Memorial Plan be taken as a basis on which to build, year by year, a Playing Fields' Foundation which would function in such a manner that our increasing social problems might be increasingly minimised by the reclaiming of portions of slum areas for open spaces for the mass of the people.

It will not be denied that the Colony has a very unwholesome legacy of slumdom where disease and vice are rampant. Scientific investigation has proved that the more congested the population the greater the incidence of disease and vice. Surely there are sufficient public-spirited men and women in the Colony to take advantage of this splendid plan for the King's Memorial by forming an organisation which might well be called The King George Playing Fields' Foundation to promote the acquisition of public arenas in the deplorably congested areas here. Yours, etc., "OLD TIMER."

BRITON DETAINED BY JAPANESE

Removed To Headquarters After Street Incident

Shanghai, Oct. 2. Captain John Thomson, former British ship's officer, was arrested by Japanese marines this morning following a brawl at Hongkew. Walking in the street Mr. Thomson jostled a marine guard, whereupon he was seized and removed to the Japanese naval headquarters and questioned for an hour before being released. Reuter.

CHINESE GENERALS ON MOVE

Canton, Oct. 2. It is reported that General Ho Ying-hom, the newly appointed Officer-in-charge of the Kwangtung military forces, flew to Nanking to confer with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek yesterday, before proceeding to Canton to assume the duties of his new office.

It is also reported that General Chen Sing, Chief Adviser of the Military Affairs Department, and Commander of the Third Route Army, will be leaving for Canton shortly to collaborate with General Ho Ying-hom in connection with the military defence of South China, and having placed army affairs in the hands of these two experienced and capable generals, it may not be necessary for Marshal Chiang Kai-shek to pay another visit to Canton in the near future.

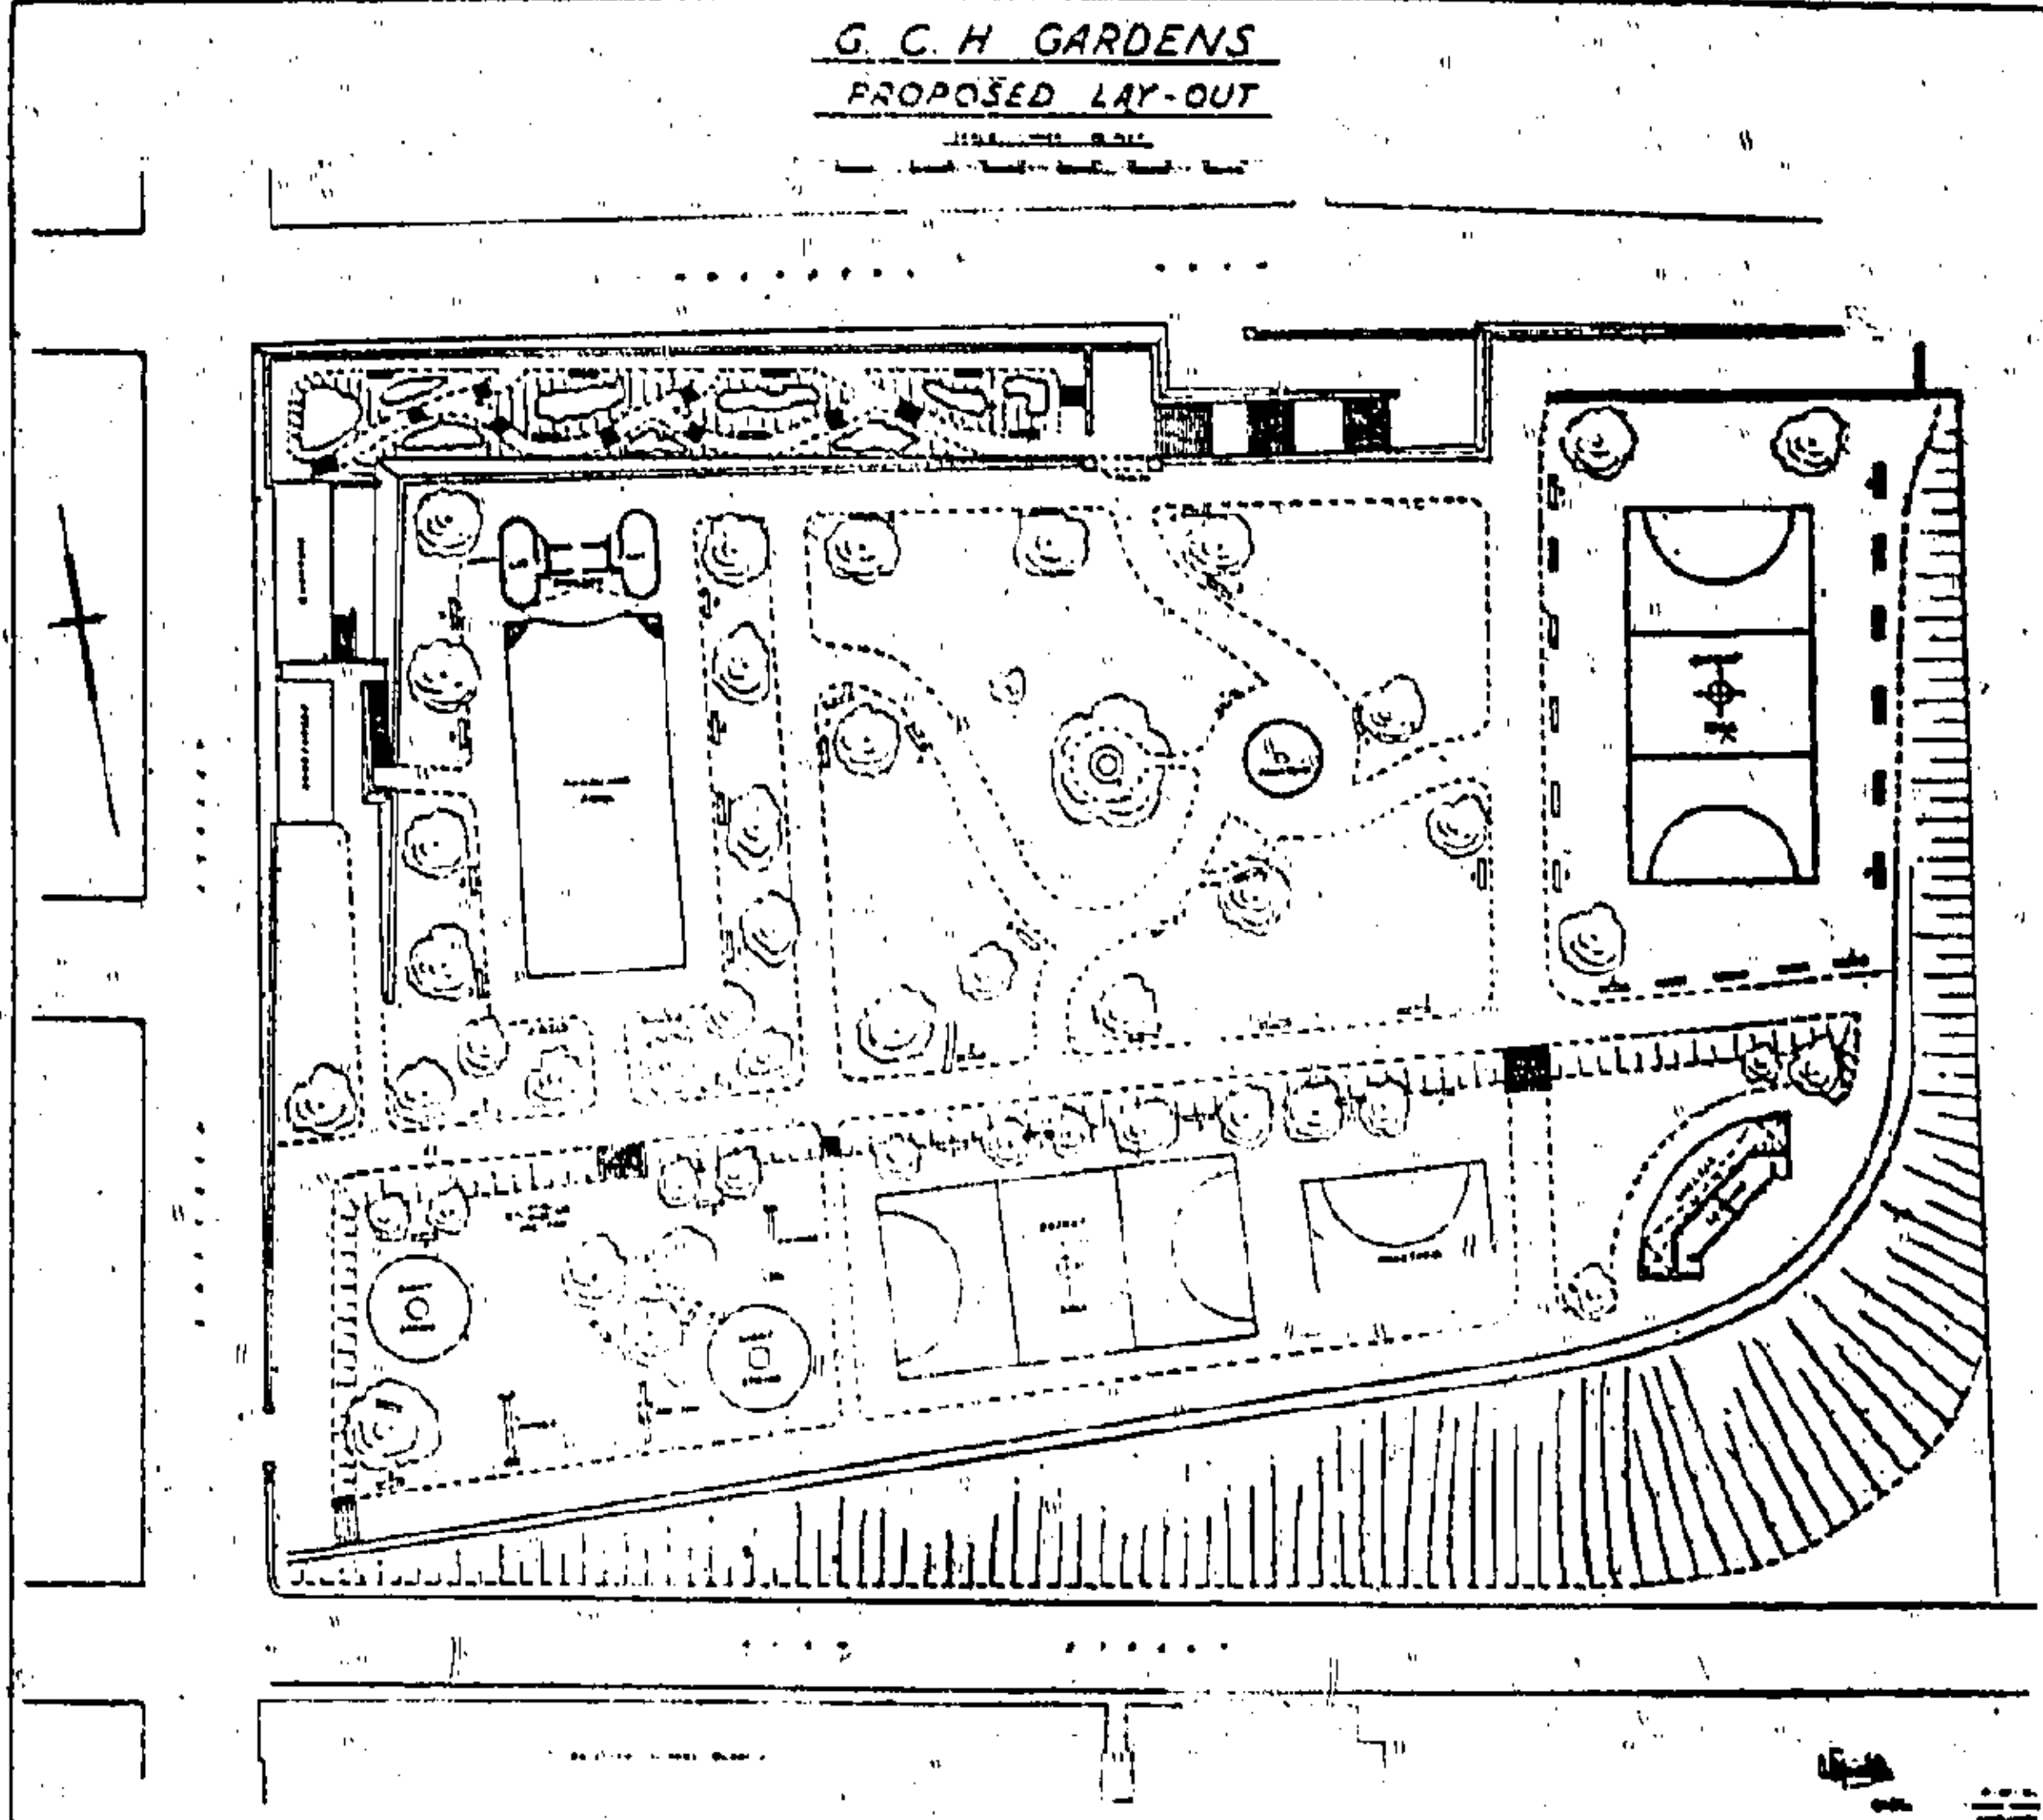

It is also understood that General Pei Chung-hsi will proceed to Nanking to confer with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek regarding important army affairs, and other matters connected with the salvation of China, and that he may give up his intention to go abroad. Chinese Evening Post.

that the plan as propounded is final in every particular. Certain amendments might be suggested and, judged purely on their merits, adopted to suit the local conditions. Perhaps to some the proposals are not sufficiently ambitious and might be used as the basis for a more comprehensive playing fields programme. Should that be so, then the time to make the suggestions and offer the criticisms is now.

Already we have received some correspondence on this matter, and we wish it to be known that our columns are open for the public's enlightenment in this connection.

SINO-JAPANESE SITUATION

ACTIVE INTEREST BY BRITAIN

Vast Interests In North And Central China

London, October 2. Evening papers splash the latest news on the Far Eastern situation, but there has been no comment and no doubt remains that the Japanese demands on China were substantially as cabled on September 30.

There is good reason to believe that the British Government is actively interested in the course of the Sino-Japanese negotiations to which it is considered Great Britain cannot remain indifferent in view of the magnitude of British interests in North and Central China.

JAPANESE CONTENTION

Japanese circles here reject the idea of third party mediation, affirming that "China will immediately profit thereby and become still more intractable. Nevertheless they appear to be disagreeably impressed by the Chinese reaction, especially the counter-demands which are contrary to all precedent."

LORD LYTON'S VIEWS

Lord Lytton, interviewed by Reuter, dwelt on the fear of some Japanese that China's advance to a prosperous and unified state must ultimately mean ruin to Japan. "From this viewpoint, time is on the side of China and Japan must establish her hold before China is too strong."

Lord Lytton disagreed with this view. He said that nobody could fail to sympathise with Japanese economic necessities, but she was obviously on the wrong path.

"The keynote of all welfare in the Far East is economic prosperity in China and nobody has yet fully appreciated that fact. It is a question whether the principal powers could not get together and assist in the recovery which China has already begun to make. So far from Japan suffering thereby she must profit enormously if she regains Chinese friendship and confidence in the end," said Lord Lytton in conclusion.

NATIONAL FEELING

Close observers point out the growth of national feeling in China. In this connection it is emphasised that the two Kwangs attempted rebellion and failed largely because the officer class refused to follow the chief generals in launching a further civil war.

Chinese loans receded on the market, but this appears to be due to the usual precautionary mark-

JAPANESE MARINES STILL VIGILANT

Barbed Wire Barricades Removed

Shanghai, Oct. 2. Japanese marines have withdrawn their barbed-wire barricades from the Hongkew area, but otherwise this morning they maintained the same precautions as yesterday, in view of the expected verdict in the Nakayama murder case this afternoon.

The exodus of Chinese from Chapel and Hongkew, which ceased last night, was resumed this morning, but the flow of frightened citizens was greatly diminished.

The Chinese police are doing their utmost to persuade people to remain in their homes. Reuter.

Tokyo, Oct. 2. At a press conference in the Foreign Office, a spokesman announced that the Foreign Minister, Mr. Arita, had decided to send Mr. Kuwajima, director of the East Asia Bureau, to Shanghai, to convey the Japanese Government's "intentions" to the Ambassador, Mr. Kawagoe.

Mr. Kuwajima will probably leave Tokyo this evening. Reuter.

NEW MONETARY AGREEMENT

COMPLETE REVOLUTION IN WORLD TRADE

Optimistic View Of Future
By Sir Robert Horne

London, October 2. Speaking last night at a meeting of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce at Cardiff, Sir Robert Horne, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in 1921-22 but who is not a member of the present administration, referred to the currency agreement between Britain, France and America.

He said: "This arrangement is going to have the effect on the whole currency systems of the world. It will make it far easier to conduct business."

"The foundation on which this new system is erected is the fact that these countries have put behind this operation an immense sum of money by which these exchange funds can be regulated."

"I look forward in the future, not too remote, to seeing the whole international trade of the world completely revolutionised."

"I believe that instead of an inflexible regulation of money transactions we shall have a much more elastic method by which the currency of the world will be stabilised through the operation of these exchange funds."

GOLD REMOVED FROM MADRID

Strong Protest By Nationalists

Paris, Oct. 1. The provisional Government of the Nationalists in Burgos has issued the following statement on Thursday.

"The so-called 'Madrid Government' despatched abroad some time ago some large consignments of gold which it had stolen from the vaults of the Bank of Spain. The Nationalist Junta has already protested against this action in the countries where the Gold has been sent and declared that all credit operations carried out on the basis of this stolen gold are invalid. Now the mask has fallen. The Madrid Anarchist Government and the criminal Mafia, now that the nationalist liberators are at the door of the capital, have decided to empty the vaults of the bank of Spain entirely and transfer the remaining 4 milliard Gold to Alicante and Cartagena, with the object of shipping it abroad on the air line 'Air France'."

In the attempt to bring this action of criminals to the attention of the world, the Young Spanish State not only reiterates its former protests, but declares that it is fundamentally opposed to operations of any kind founded on basis of those stolen gold, and will eventually hold the Governments of those countries where the gold is deposited, responsible for any damages suffered on account of this stolen gold."

LONDON FOREIGN EXCHANGES

Burst Of Activity At Start

INTEREST CENTRES ON FRENCH FRANC

London, Oct. 2.

After opening with a burst of activity, London foreign exchanges are now a good deal quieter. Interest throughout was centred almost entirely on the French franc which, after opening around 104.00, buyers fluctuated considerably and have now come to rest around 105.75.

At the opening most of the dealings were the result of covering of the extensive short position which had been built up, after the execution of which selling reappeared at a rate almost immediately falling off to 105.75 steadiness, at which it was taken by the majority of dealers as indication of the newly constituted French Control buying francs at this level.

Most quarters opine that if control did not intervene, the rate would have been more in the neighbourhood of 110.00.

A large amount of gold offering in the bullion market to-day is understood to have been taken by official sources, probably British Control acting either on its own behalf or the French Control, and American Control.

LATEST RATES

London, October 2.

Dealings in French franc were resumed in the London foreign exchange market this morning, opening on a new basis of about 103½ as compared with Friday's closing level of 76-37/64.

Latest mean rates are sterling on New York 4.93-1/16, Paris 105½, Brussels 29.215, Amsterdam 9.14, Geneva 21.415, Berlin 12.25.

Stock markets quiet, War Loan 105-7/8.

About 378 bars of gold of an approximate value of £1,058,000 were disposed of at 141½-d.

PREMIERSHIP IN HUNGARY

Budapest, Oct. 1.

The question, whether General Goemboes will be allowed by his physician to return to public life at the end of his vacations, is at present subject to much discussion. It is stated that Goemboes has very much improved in health, but that the strain of public life might not be good for him. It is generally expected that, should Goemboes be forced by his health to vacate the Premiership, his present Deputy, the Secretary for Agriculture, Daranyi, would be commissioned by Regent von Horthy to form a Government, and that then only a few posts would be occupied by new members, to give the Cabinet a great unity for carrying out the policy inaugurated by General Goemboes.

General Goemboes, who enjoys the confidence and veneration of the entire country, will place his services at his country's disposal in a form not yet known.

DEVALUATION BILL PASSED

Crisis In France Averted

Paris, Oct. 1.

The threatened crisis between the Chamber and the Senate over the Devaluation Bill has been averted by a compromise by which a scheme of compulsory arbitration will replace the clause granting arbitrary powers to the Government.

The Bill, as finally approved by the Chamber, was passed by the Senate after the defeat, by 155 votes to 87, of an amendment to impose a tax of 80 per cent. on profits of stock exchange transactions. Instead of the 50 per cent proposed by the Chamber, M. Auriol, the Finance Minister, then declared the extraordinary session closed.

M. Leon Blum, the Premier, and M. Paul Boncour, Minister without portfolio, have now left for Geneva.

It is understood that the Bourse is almost certain to re-open to-day.

COMPROMISE ADOPTED

Paris, Oct. 1.

The Chamber Finance Commission has adopted the compromise to the Devaluation Bill without modification.

The Chamber then passed the Financial Bill by 354 votes to 217. The Bill now goes back to the Senate for approval, with one amendment.

Reuters.

BOURSE TO REOPEN

Paris, Oct. 2.

The devaluation bill was definitely passed by the Chamber as well as the Senate shortly after Thursday midnight. In order to reach a compromise with the Chamber, the Senate agreed to the supplementary clause added by the latter, which provides that speculators against the franc must pay 50 per cent. of their profit to the State.

The Minister of Finance, Vincent Auriol was thus able, shortly after midnight on Thursday to announce that the dispute between the Chamber and Senate had been settled, and that the devaluation bill was now definitely approved by Parliament. In consequence of this the bourse will be reopened on Friday, after having been closed for eight days.

SENATE CRITICISED

Paris, Oct. 1.

The Right Wing papers on Friday morning severely criticised the Senate for having accepted a compromise formula for the devaluation bill.

The papers of the "Popular Front" warn the Government that the workers will take the safeguarding into their own hands if the Government tries to deprive the workers of the "rather meagre rights that have been left them."

CLOUSTON STILL HELD UP

Only Competitor In Air Race

HANDICAP PRIZE CHANCES

London, Oct. 2.

The promoter of the South African Air Race, Mr. I. W. Schlesinger, has announced that the prize money left after deducting £4,000 which goes to Scott and Guthrie, the only flyers so far to complete the course, will be devoted to form the basis of a fund for the relatives of Captain Max Findlay, chief pilot, and A. H. Morgan, wireless operator, who were killed when their aeroplane, Airspeed Envoy, crashed at Abercorn yesterday.

The first prize of £3,000 was offered in the handicap section of the race, the conditions of which precluded one competitor receiving prizes in both sections, and the other prizes offered would bring the total available for the fund up to £8,000. It is now considered unlikely that the handicap prize will be won as the only competitor still in the race is Flying Officer Clouston, who is not yet reported to have left Khartoum where he is held up awaiting a new piston from Cairo. As the race must be completed by 6.30 a.m. on Sunday, the chance of Clouston reaching Johannesburg in time is regarded as remote.

PARLIAMENT MEETS IN SPAIN

Paris, Oct. 1.

Hardly 100 deputies attended the Cortes session on Thursday morning. The rest were either dead or hiding. The deputies present, with the exception of six members of the Catholic Peoples Party, all belonged to the Left wing parties.

After opening of Parliament by the President, the law granting the Basque autonomy on the lines of the Catalan Statute, was read. Premier Caballero then addressed the Chamber. After declaring that the Government forces were fighting for the liberty of Europe, he outlined the programme of his Government, which he is prepared to carry out when the final victory is won. Amidst applause from the left he declared that the whole form of Government must be changed. Spain must be made into a Republic of the Proletariat.

The Budget and the Basque autonomy bill were then passed, as well as measures giving the Government full powers to carry on its fight for the establishment of the Proletarian Republic.

INSIDIOUS ENEMY OF HEALTH

MEASURES TO ABATE SMOKE NUISANCE

Exhibition In London

London, October 2.

A smoke abatement exhibition designed to illustrate the nature and effects of smoke methods by which air pollution can be measured and how the nuisance can be abated was opened yesterday in the Science Museum, South Kensington.

Dr. Des Voeux, who presided, recalled that thirty six years ago there used to be some thirty five to forty thick fogs in London every winter and some of them lasted for a week. Had the conditions, then existing continued unchecked, London would now be uninhabitable.

Sir Kingsley Wood, Health Minister, said that smoke was a real and insidious enemy of health and cost a nation many millions yearly. Conditions were better now than at the end of the last century in spite of the fact that 4,250,000 more dwelling houses had been built since 1901.

The increased use of gas and electricity had helped in this improvement, but a great deal had still to be done.

In future progress he thought that legislation would be a less important element than prudent administration and co-operation between public authorities, manufacturers and voluntary organizations.

Domestic smoke was now the largest part of the problem.

MANDATES HELD BY BRITAIN

No Question Of Transfer

London, Oct. 1.

The British Government, through its spokesman, Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, to-day refused at the Conservative Conference at Margate to go beyond the official statements already made with regard to the future of Britain's mandated territories.

Sir Samuel reviewed the statement of the Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, in the House of Commons last April, in which the leader of the Government made clear the legal position of the mandated territories, showing that no provision had been made for their transfer, and assuring the Government had no intention of raising this matter.

Sir Samuel added that Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Minister, had amplified the Prime Minister's statement on July 27. He hoped that in view of the present delicate international situation he would not be expected to elaborate or add to these statements, said the First Lord.

The Conference, by acclamation, adopted the resolution urging the Government to give assurance that Sir John Simon's statement in March, 1935, to the effect that cession of any British mandated territory was not a question to be discussed, still represented the Government's unalterable attitude.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN NAVIES

Agreement Reached In London

London, Oct. 1.

A complete agreement was reached on the text of the proposed Anglo-Russian Naval Treaty, subject to the approval of the Governments concerned and to Germany's adherence to the 1896 Three Power Naval Pact, recently signed in London.

The agreement follows the principles of the 1936 treaty, except that Russia will have the right to build seven cruisers with 7.1 inch guns instead of 6.1 inch, which is the limit laid down by the treaty.

Moreover, as regards the Far East, Russia will have a free hand in building, except that she undertakes not to build vessels there outside the limits of the 1936 treaty. This means that if Japan exceeds these limits, Russia will be permitted to do likewise.

Russia also undertakes not to transfer from the Far East to Europe, or the Black Sea, any vessels constructed in the Far East exceeding the qualitative limits laid down in the 1936 treaty.

It is understood, however, that Russia is not bound to exchange information concerning her Far Eastern construction.

HONG KONG CRICKETERS SAIL NORTH

Rousing Send-Off Accorded

CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Many friends and well-wishers gathered at the Kowloon Wharf yesterday to bid farewell and good luck to the Hong Kong Interport cricketers who sailed for Shanghai at noon aboard the C.P.S. liner Empress of Russia.

Mr. H.R.B. (Dick) Hancock, a former Interport cricketer, is travelling with the team as a camp follower.

As the liner drew out from the wharf, the Hong Kong C.C. flag was hoisted and flown at the foremast.

The team comprises T. A. Pearce (Capt.), C. C. Garthwaite, A. H. Madar, K. Nazarin, W. H. Colledge, R. Lee, A. R. Minu, Hon. G. R. Clegg-Hill, Capt. D. W. Perse, E. L. Gosano, E. F. Fincher and L. D. Kilbee (twelfth man).

When Shanghai visited here last year under the captaincy of Donald Leach, who is not playing this time, Hong Kong won after a dramatic finish. G. R. M. Ricketts was the hero of the game which is still fresh in the memory of local cricket enthusiasts.

CONFIDENT

The Colony team were in the best of spirits and were quite confident of winning the "Ashes." Among those present to bid goodbye to the team were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hayward, Mrs. Clegg-Hill, Mrs. Perse, Mrs. Baskett, Miss A. Steele, the Rev. H. W. Baines, Messrs. F. Goodwin, E. W. Hamilton, A. V. Gosano, J. Forbes, W. Keith Robinson, representatives from the I.R.C. and the University Cricket Club.

Miss T. O'Brien and Messrs. P. S. Cassidy, H. Owen Hughes and C. W. L. Cole were at Queen's Pier to bid their wishes.

The team will play as chosen with Kilbee as 12th man. The team on the whole is a very good one, the batting is solid right down to No. 11 and the bowling is quite strong with Lee and Garthwaite as opening. Minu and Pearce will be first changes.

Travelling with the team were Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Mackenzie, and Mr. P. E. Baskett (Umpire).

VISITED BEFORE

Of the present Colony team visiting North, Pearce, Minu, Garthwaite, Fincher and Madar have all played before in Shanghai. Madar, Fincher and Minu were members of Eric Mitchell's victorious Colony team in 1932 on which occasion Minu played havoc with the ball capturing ten wickets in two innings. Madar collected 59 not out.

Pearce, Garthwaite, Minu and Madar played in the North in 1934, and they were also members of last year's Colony side.

For bowlers the Colony can rely on Lee, Pearce, Gosano, Garthwaite, Madar (as a useful change), Minu, Perse and Nazarin. The spirit of the attack will probably be borne by Minu, Garthwaite and Lee.

There is a wealth of batting talent.

The probable batting order will be as follows:—

- Colledge
- Garthwaite
- Pearce
- Fincher
- Madar
- Nazarin
- Perse
- Gosano
- Clegg-Hill
- Minu
- Lee

The Shanghai team is: A. J. Barson (captain), A. T. Bridge, R. Booth, G. Chatterton, M. J. Divecha, J. B. H. Leckie, P. Madar, H. Meston, H. V. Parker, H. A. Sevenoaks, and L. F. Stokes.

INTERPORT ARRANGEMENTS

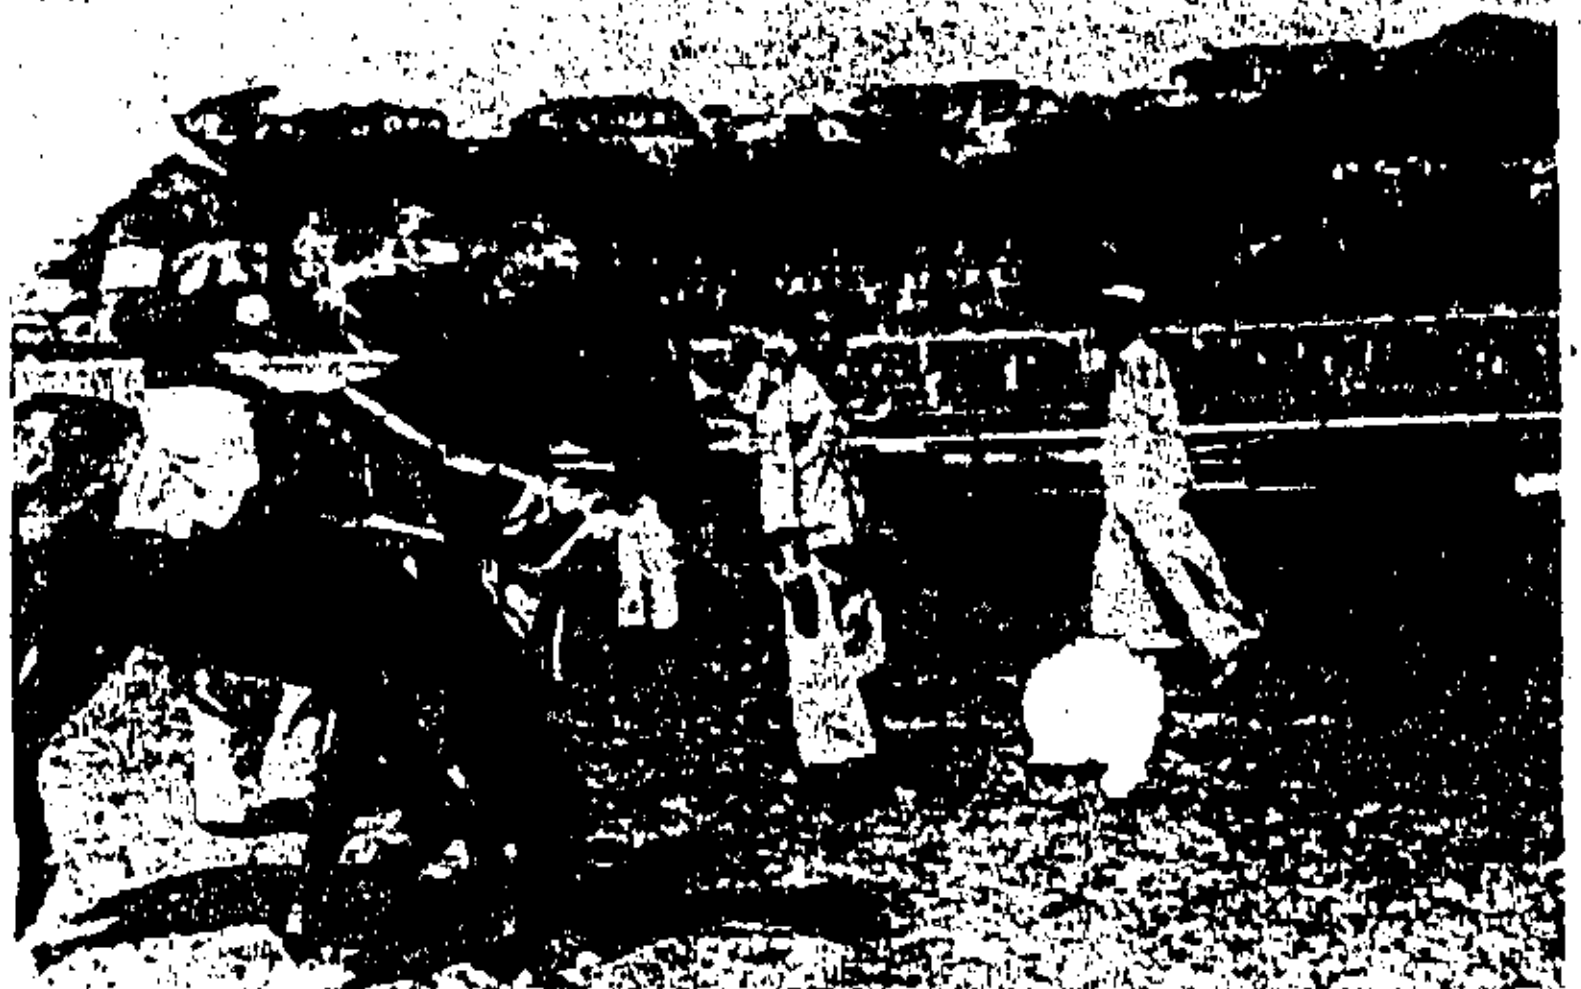

The Hong Kong Interport team will arrive in Shanghai on Sunday and the Interport match will start at 11 a.m. on Tuesday the time interval being from 1.45 p.m. to 2.30 p.m. Stumps will be drawn on each day at 5 p.m. On Saturday, October 10, Hong Kong will play the Shanghai Recreation Club, and on Monday, October 12, the Rest of Shanghai. The visitors will return to Hong Kong in the a.s. Rawalpindi sailing from Shanghai on Tuesday, October 13.

PREVIOUS RESULTS

Up to date, 35 matches have been played between the two ports, Hong Kong winning 18 and Shanghai 15, the remaining two being drawn. Below are given

SHANGHAI TENNIS

Ladies' Doubles Title

WON BY MRS. MOIR AND MRS. BURTON

Experience overcame youth in decisive fashion on Sept. 27 when Mrs. J. E. Moir and Mrs. T. M. Burton won the ladies open doubles title of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association by defeating Mrs. C. Getz and Mrs. D. Eardley in the final by 6-4, 6-2 on the Association court. Before the doubles match, M. N. Loo won the junior singles crown by defeating J. P. C. Master in a close struggle by 7-5, 6-4, 7-5.

As in many a previous court battle, the vigorous stroking of Mrs. Moir proved the main factor in tipping the scales to favour the winners. Her ground strokes on both forehand and backhand were the most emphatic on the court generally going deep and making play difficult for the opposing couple. She received good support from Mrs. Burton who shone particularly at the net with sharply angled volleys.

The younger players tended to be erratic and were on the defensive for the most part. They made considerable use of the advantage they held in court coverage by varying the length of their shots to frequently place their easy shots beyond reach. Miss Eardley served a faster ball than her partner but was not as dependable in general play.

The winners were at no time behind and looked the part through the two sets. Taking advantage of slight nervousness shown by the younger players at the outset, Mrs. Moir and Mrs. Burton ran through the first two games with the loss of only one point. Mrs. Moir's fast underhand serve won the opening game at love, most of the returns being netted, and then the winners went on to take Miss Eardley's service in quick order.

SCORE EVENED TWICE

Miss Eardley and Mrs. Getz rallied to take the next two games with some well placed shots, scoring most of their points on short drops and on the errors of their opponents. The next four games were an almost exact repetition, the winners going ahead to 4-2 only to have the score equalized at four-all. By again winning her service Mrs. Moir took the important 5-4 lead and then the opening set was completed by Mrs. Moir and Mrs. Burton winning Miss Eardley's service again.

Games rose evenly to two all in the second set, but the ultimate winners became still more certain in their stroking while their opponents' play lapsed into frequent errors. The result was that Mrs. Moir and Mrs. Burton took the succeeding four games with the loss of very few points for the match and doubles championship.

MEDICAL EDUCATION IN HONG KONG

Prof. U. T. Ride said:—
Then comes the last great hurdle, the final, those days of torturing written papers in Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, followed by clinical tests on actual cases and orals conducted by people who seem to the candidate to have forgotten what an examination feels like on the other side of the table; then the period of enforced inactivity and almost insupportable excitement awaiting the result, and at last the successful candidate hears the words he had begun to think would never be directed to him "Congratulations Doctor." I don't know what the usually accepted procedure is here in Hong Kong after the posting of results; whatever it is, it fortunately falls outside the realm of the Dean, but it will surely have this in common with all such celebrations in other places that it will be associated with the feeling that all life's struggles are over. But it takes more than success in a final examination to accomplish that.

STUDENT'S PROGRESS

Just let us see how far our student now has really progressed. He has learned the normal mechanism and function of the body; he has learned how to apply that knowledge to the detection of disease, its diagnosis, its prevention and its treatment. But all the patients he has dealt with were selected ones; he starts off with the premise that the patient is ill, otherwise he would not be in hospital. It is one task to find out what is wrong when you know something is wrong, but how much more difficult it may be to have to decide whether anything is amiss, or not, especially if you have to take the whole responsibility of your decision on your own shoulders.

Therein lies the immense value of house officership and I would like to-day to try and impress on you (because my experience as your Dean now for a number of years makes me feel it is necessary) how valuable the tenure of such a post is. The house officer is not only completing his medical education but, coming in contact with the families of his patients as he is for the first time, he is learning to deal with his patient as the loved or all important unit of some human home however humble; he should understand responsibility while still under the eye of his teachers, with whom he now comes in contact in a manner not possible in his student days; he plays a very important role in the efficient working of his ward and his hospital, and he gets his first real introduction to what should be the motto of his future life, "service before self." This is not a time for holidays; holidays during these appointments defeat the whole aim both from the point of view of the house officer and that of his clinic and hospital.

And now this period being completed, what next? For the majority it is, the wide world, for a chosen few, demonstratorships or assistantships in the University departments. These posts were able to create with our share of the Boxer Indemnity money, given to the University a few years ago, and they provide our best men with opportunities for teaching experience and further study fitting them for specialization in clinical subjects, or for academic and research posts. Without this further training and teaching experience we cannot possibly expect our graduates to reach the standard required from those who wish to take charge of teaching departments in Universities in China.

THE FUTURE

A student who has been through this training and obtained M.B., B.S., degree is entitled to practise anywhere in the Empire subject only to local regulations and requirements that is a fact of which we are rightly proud, and the recent achievements of our graduates confirm our opinion that we do provide facilities for a reasonably good medical education. For the last three years Boxer Indemnity Scholarships in Medical Sciences have been allotted by open competitive examination throughout China, and each year we have been successful in gaining one of these scholarships, the frequency with which we receive word concerning our graduates who gain special post-graduate diplomas in England is gratifying in the extreme; but we are nevertheless conscious of two great shortcomings in our educational scheme, the first is in our curriculum and the second in the absence of provision for research work. From the foregoing it can be seen that our curriculum must of necessity be that of a home institution modified to suit local requirements, and in Hong Kong that demands more emphasis to be laid on public health, preventive medicine, tropical medicine, parasitic diseases, bacteriology, ante-natal work and nutritional problems.

ELOQUENT APPEAL

Our late Chancellor, Sir Wm Peel, made an eloquent appeal but a short time ago; an appeal which many of you here will no doubt remember. This was for money to enable us to give instructions in public health and preventive medicine so necessary for doctors in this part of the world. As far as original work is concerned, no original school can be considered as playing its part fully unless it contributes to medical science as a whole the experience to be gained from its own peculiar environment. Opportunity carries in its train responsibility, and any medical man in this colony for ever such a short period cannot fail to be impressed by the magnitude of our opportunities. It is often said that our duty in the University is to teach and not to indulge in research.

It seems therefore that if this colony wishes to have a university which others consider worthy of the name, more funds must be provided for one thing is certain and that is that; at the moment our endowment will not allow of money being spent for such a purpose. There is no need to emphasise the fact that one does not use the term research in a university in the narrow sense of original work conducted in a laboratory but in the real sense of honest thinking applied to accurate observations. There is yet another important reason why we should make provision here for medical research. We endeavour to so train our demonstrators and assistants that they will ultimately become fitted to occupy University Chairs and Senior teaching posts.

Since all other universities expect their professors to engage in original work, how can we expect our graduates to attain that standard if we do not provide facilities for training in method of original work? Our duty towards the higher education of our best graduates demands attention to this neglected side of our activities. (In discussing our shortcomings I have omitted all mention of those very important branches of medical training, viz., dentistry and nursing. They open a much larger field than we can be prepared to discuss now.)

IMPORTANT QUESTION

The moment one begins to consider possible and desirable developments, one must first of all answer this important question, "Is there a real need for medical education of this standard and along these lines in Hong Kong?" Should we aim at supplying local demands only, or should we attempt to provide education of such a type that it would attract students from all over the far east, resulting in the raising of the prestige of the British Educational system in general and British medical training in particular? These two possible alternatives; if the former be our true function, we must not only shape our course accordingly, but must limit our numbers so as to prevent growth past the size calculated to fulfil local requirements, and we could reasonably expect the necessary monetary support for such a medical school from local sources. But if the latter be our accredited policy, developments such as I have indicated are essential to its achievement and the financial responsibilities for such a scheme should not begin and end with this colony. A far sighted policy such as this should demand and receive support both moral and financial from medical funds in England.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

In order to arrive at conclusions concerning the two alternatives cited above, let us now see what we are at present accomplishing in the Medical Faculty. This is a point which I was very pleased to see discussed in the leading article in the "China Mail" on August 15th, last. On the subject of "Unwanted Graduates" the writer said concerning our University "it would be interesting to know what percentage of graduates each year is in fact absorbed into the professions and business house locally."

Since for the last 11 years we have on an average granted 16 medical degrees per year, we might expect 10 new doctors to be added to the local register per year, 1 or 2 to go to China, and 2 or 3 to other far eastern countries. Through the kindness of Dr. Uttley I am able to quote the following figures. The 1931 census revealed that in Hong Kong we had one registered medical practitioner to every 2,800 persons whereas in England there was one to every 800. The difference is made greater because here we have a large percentage of the population attended by practitioners of Chinese medicine. The number of western trained practitioners in Hong Kong has increased four fold between 1921 and 1931. It seems to me therefore that we must either educate the local Chinese to patronise western trained practitioners or else limit the numbers of our graduates. Indiscriminate overloading of the medical market, especially amongst a population such as ours in Hong Kong is fraught with serious problems both economical and ethical.

SUPERSATURATING

If our function is merely to supply Hong Kong with medical practitioners then we are overstepping the mark in two directions (1) we are in danger of supersaturating the local market and (2) we are sending 25% of our graduates elsewhere, educating them in fact to serve other masters. Is that what the colony wishes us to do with its money? But if we desire to provide a medical centre of value to China as well, surely again we are falling very far short of our aim for only 10% of our graduates find their life's work there. Immediately I am met with this argument, "Yes, true, but that is probably because very few of your students come from China in the first place," to which I in turn say, "Yes, true, but if we gave a course designed to pay special attention to those aspects of medicine of most value to medical pioneers in China, we would attract more students from China." The need is there, we have but to provide the means for meeting that need, and by so doing we would be fulfilling what in my humble opinion is our highest function.

Which, then, is our policy? Neither; we have no policy; but in spite of the length of this talk that is too depressing a theme for a finale. In fairness to the Medical Faculty it must be stated it does more than train a few graduates to win scholarships, and turn out unwanted, or misplaced doctors. Remember how in the days of the college the teaching was done all over the colony. When through the munificence of the Rockefeller Foundation money was provided to establish the three clinical chairs, the arrangement whereby all the clinical teaching should be done at the Government Civil Hospital. Through the co-operation of the medical department we have now taken over and are responsible for the treatment of patients in a number of wards as well as certain out-patient clinics.

ANTE-NATAL CLINICS

The whole of the Tsan Yuk Hospital with its in-patients of over 1,800 (as shown in the last annual report) is run by our Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, together with its out-patients and ante-natal clinics. By means of the University assistants in these departments, larger numbers of patients can be dealt with and thus treatment as up to date and efficient as Hong Kong can supply is made available for even the poorest of Hong Kong's poor. Apparatus and drugs otherwise unavailable are provided in a small but definite degree from the University funds allotted to these departments, and the appointment of three clinical professors as Government consultants in their own branches makes it possible for any one in the colony, rich or poor, to obtain the benefit of their expert advice.

Our graduates enable the Colony to fill certain medical posts at a cost much smaller than that which would be necessitated by recruitment from England, and also provide such organisations as the St. John Ambulance Association with medical officers for their dispensaries, officers who have an intimate knowledge of the language and of the lives of the poor people whom they succour. Our University Departments of Pathology and Physiology carry out hundreds of tests per year for patients in the university wards of the hospitals and the expenses are met from departmental funds. This of course is no new disclosure, for it was one of the arguments which persuaded the government to increase a few years ago its annual grant to the University, but the fact remains that without the Medical Faculty of this University it would cost the colony a great deal more to carry out all this essential work through other departments, for the simple reason that at present University money it also being used for this purpose.

"GROWN"

Will you permit me now to summarise my thoughts in a few sentences? We have inherited from worthy forefathers the management of medical education in this colony. For many years the institution has flourished, but, flourished, I am afraid more after the manner of Topey, for as far as she knew she just "grewed;" now we are or are we are faced with the problems of manhood! What is to be the life's work of the Medical Faculty? What is our policy? The decision is for the colony to make, our task is to carry out that decision. I can only hope that this address may help to put the case more clearly before you and the public at large, and to stimulate them to give us a mandate, and what more fitting occasion than 1937 for them to say "Go ahead and produce a memorial worthy of Manson your founder, so that from your walls you may continue to send forth men and women imbued with such spirit and endowed with such learning that they may be a source of help to fellow countrymen as was your first graduate, "Sun Yat Sen."

COAST DEFENCE GUNNERS

The King's Prize For Suffolk Brigade

The King's Prize for 92in. batteries of the Royal Artillery, Territorial Army, was won recently by the Suffolk Heavy Brigade, represented by the 176th Battery, from Dovercourt, commanded by Major J. H. Allen. The provisional figure of merit announced at the end of the competition was 392.

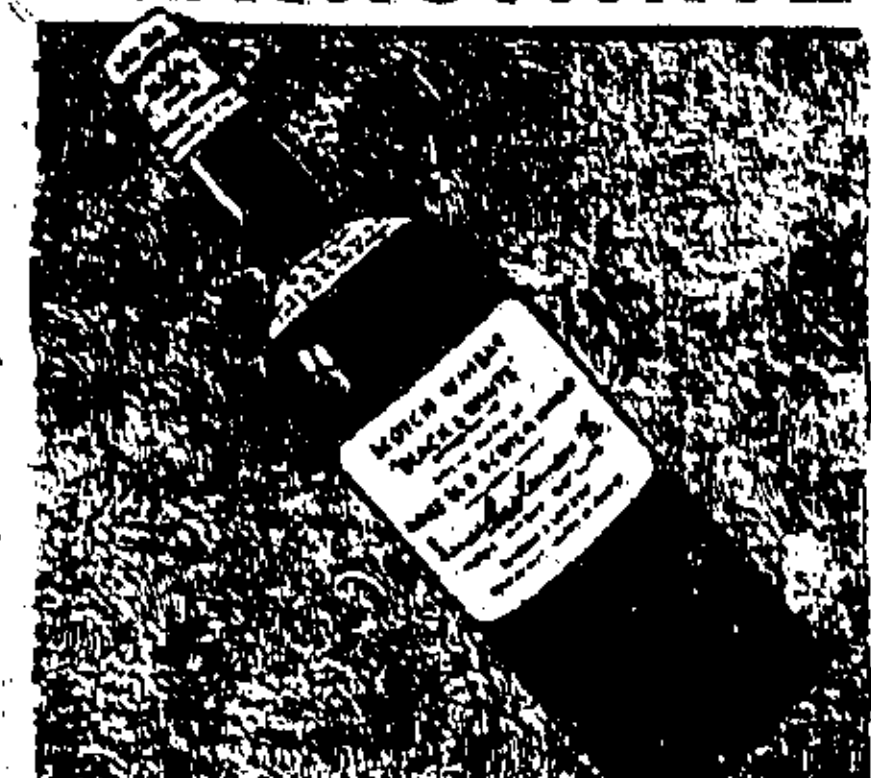

In addition to the King's Cup, the winners take the Corporation of the City of London prize of £25 the "Haberders" Company's prize of two guineas, and the National Artillery Association's prize of £2 18s. The battery commander is awarded the cup given by Sir William Dupree.

Next in the competition was the Forth Brigade, represented by the 162nd Battery (Major G. W. Harvey). This battery came all the way from Edinburgh for a few minutes' shooting. Their figure of merit was 289, and they win the Saddlers' Company's prize of eight guineas and the National Artillery Association's prize of £8 12s.

The first battery to shoot was the 182nd, of the East Riding Heavy Brigade, which comes from Hull. They were unlucky enough to have a misfire with the first round because of an excess of zeal on the part of the loading numbers, who rammed the charge in too far. In the case of a misfire the breach may not be opened for half an hour. This considerably delayed the shooting and probably accounted for the rather low figure of merit by the battery.

The competition is by no means an easy one. The target, representing an attacking cruiser, is towed by a launch at 8,000 yards. The target is wound in as the launch steams across the front of the battery, going at a speed of about 12 knots. The Suffolk Brigade deserved to win for they performed in a really workmanlike manner. They began with a couple of salvos, then put in two "ladders" and ended with a couple more salvos. The salvos really were what they were intended to be, and not two guns firing one after the other.

There was a slight haze early in the day and one or two showers, but none of the batteries had had visibility, and conditions were as nearly equal as they can be in a competition which, because of delays caused by shipping sailing within range and other causes impossible to prevent, is spread over about seven hours. None of the batteries shot so well as they did in practice camp, in which they earned the right to compete. Officers and men in the competition are anxious and over-keen; they are performing their duties in something like the mental conditions which would obtain in war. For this reason if for no other the annual matches for the King's prize are well worth while. The National Artillery Association is not so well supported as it should be, and the council has this year slightly reduced their money prizes.

Besides Major-General F. W. Barron, Inspector of Fixed Defences, there were present at Penlee Battery Brigadier W. B. G. Barne (Brigadier, Royal Artillery, Eastern Command), Colonel A. F. V. Jarrett (Commandant, Coast Artillery School, Shoeburyness), who acted as chief umpire, and Lieutenant-Colonel E. T. Lea and Major G. L. Kitson (hon. secretary and assistant hon. secretary of the National Artillery Association).

The competition for 6in. guns, for which the chief award is the cup given by the King when Prince of Wales, will be fired from the Watch House Battery, and will not be over until early the next morning.

IMPORTANT TO LIVER SUFFERERS

By Dr. Quignon Of The Faculty Of Medicine, Paris

Just now I am kept very busy by an epidemic of "liver" disorders—a great many people feeling "out of sorts," bilious, depressed and unable to enjoy their food. Undoubtedly the best remedy for an upset liver is provided by certain famous Continental Mineral Springs, but science has now made it possible for all liver sufferers to enjoy, in their homes, all the benefits of Continental Spa treatment, at little cost. By reproducing in crystalline form the essential principles of seven world renowned Spas, including those at Vichy, Carlsbad, Aix-les-Bains and Marienbad, Alkion Saltrates provides what is probably the finest liver tonic and corrective known. It is obtainable from all high class Dispensaries and Stores.

To men and women who are feeling liverish and "out of sorts," and to those who are suffering from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney trouble and High Blood Pressure I can recommend Alkion Saltrates with confidence and I advise them to start the treatment without delay.

ROYAL NAVY

Command Of The Malaya

CAPTAIN-IN-CHARGE, CEYLON

From September 18 Captain W. H. G. Fallowfield, late in command of the sloop Dundee on the America and West Indies Station, is appointed Captain-in-Charge, Ceylon. He succeeds Captain C. S. Sandford, O.B.E., who has served there for the normal two years.

The naval establishment at Colombo and Trincomalee are officially known as H.M.S. Norfolk II, the cruiser Norfolk being the flagship on the East Indies Station. Captain Fallowfield last served in the East as Commander of the cruiser Durban, on the China Station, from 1925 to 1927. He was in command of destroyers throughout the War, serving in the Basilek, Marvel, and Veteran.

Paymaster Commander E. E. Brightman hitherto in charge of the accounts of destroyers on the China Station, has been appointed for duty with the Captain-in-Charge, Ceylon. He was formerly Secretary to Vice-Admiral T. J. Hallett, C.B., C.B.E., when Commanding Officer on the Coast of Scotland and Captain of the Fleet, Mediterranean Station.

6TH DESTROYER FLOTILLA
The leave granted to officers and men of the 6th Destroyer Flotilla, Home Fleet, on their return from detached duty in the Mediterranean ended on September 18. The flotilla, consisting of the leader Faulkner and eight destroyers of the Fearless type, under the command of Captain V. H. Danckwerts, C.M.G., will leave its home ports early in October for Rosyth, where it will be until October 28 in company with other units of the Home Fleet.

SQUADRON TONED OFFICER
Commander W. A. Dallmeyer, who has been appointed to the Hood, will take up the post of squadron torpedo officer in the Battle Cruiser Squadron, which is in process of transfer from the Home to the Mediterranean Fleet. Commander Dallmeyer was promoted in the mid-summer list, and has hitherto been squadron torpedo officer, 1st Battle Squadron, Mediterranean. He served as a midshipman of H.M.S. Royal Sovereign in the Grand Fleet in 1917-18, and specialized in torpedoes in 1926.

COMMANDER KINGDON RETIRED

Lieutenant-Commander W. N. Kingdon, whose retirement at his own request with the rank of commander was announced recently, has had 31 years in the Navy, which he entered as a cadet at Osborne in 1905. When the War began he was sub-lieutenant of the cruiser Roxburgh in the Grand Fleet, but a few months later moved into the minesweeper Leda. After his promotion to Lieutenant in 1915 he joined the battleship Temeraire, Grand Fleet, in which he served until 1918, when he was appointed in command of the minesweeper Holderness. His commands since the War have included the minesweepers Sherborne and Tiverton, and in 1926-28 he was senior lieutenant-commander of the cruiser Despatch in China. Since 1931 he had been executive officer of the turret drillship Terror, the Admiralty yacht Enchantress, and the cruisers Constance and Dauntless, in the Reserve Fleet, Portsmouth.

NEW MUSLIM ORPHANAGE

Foundation Stone Laid

APPEAL FOR FUNDS

In a short time the Colony's Muslim orphans will have a comfortable place in which to live as the scheme of building a Muslim orphanage has already been placed in the hands of the architects.

Yesterday a large gathering of the Muslim community as well as a number of non-Muslims were present at the Mosque to witness the laying of its foundation stone. The ceremony was performed by His Eminence Maulana Mohomed Aleem Siddiqui, the well-known theologian who is at present paying a visit to the Colony before returning to India to-day.

Although a large sum has been subscribed funds are still required to meet the expenses of building the orphanage; and during the meeting, a subscription was called, and many gave handsome donations.

The plans of building of the orphanage will be prepared by Mr. E. M. Hazeland, of Messrs. Hazeland and Gonnella.

Hon. Mr. T. H. King, Inspector General of Police, Lieut. A. G. L. Cose, R.A., Mr. A. F. Silva-Netto, Dr. M. O. Pfister, Dr. H. el Arcull, Mr. A. G. Sumad, Mr. Abbas Khan, Mr. A. R. M. Arab, Mr. S. A. B. Bux, Mr. A. R. M. Samy and Mr. M. A. Razack were among those present.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

Mr. U. Rumjahn, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Mosque, said:—

As Chairman of the Board of Trustees of this Mosque I have the honour to welcome His Eminence Maulana Mohomed Aleem Siddiqui who had very graciously consented to accept our invitation to lay the foundation stone of the Muslim Orphanage and I have also much pleasure to welcome all our esteemed guests on this auspicious occasion.

In consequence of His Eminence having to leave the Colony tomorrow, to perform an important ceremony in his own country, at Meerut, India, we regret the invitations were not sent out earlier. However we appreciate very much the attendance of all those who were kind enough to grace this occasion with their presence.

IMPORTANT EVENT

This will be a very important event in the annals of the Mohammedan Community in this Colony. Time does not permit me to delve into past history but I would like to briefly outline some of the facts connected with our own Community. It is not to be forgotten that we were one of the first settlers to take part in the Colony's activities soon after British occupation. It may not be known to many of us of the present generation that it was more than 86 years ago that the ground upon which this Mosque is built, was leased to the Mohammedan Community. To be more precise, I would mention that the Crown Lease was dated 23rd September 1850, the first Trustees being the late Shaik Moosdeen, Mohammed Arab, Shaik Carihar and Hassan Malay. There were several other trusteeships since, the necessary changes being caused by effluxion of time, absence from the Colony or death. There were four Trustees in the past but since the year 1911 the number of Trustees was increased to six.

By virtue of an Order made by the Supreme Court of Hong Kong dated the 8th February 1911 under the Trustee's Ordinance 1901, the late Ahmet Rumjahn, Abdool Suban Abbas, Abdool Fucker, Arcull, Ismail Pillay Madar, Tyabjee Motabhy and Esmael Chandooohy were appointed new Trustees.

On the 17th July 1917, Joint Rules, Regulations and Bye-laws were made by the Governor-in-Council, for the management of this Mosque and the Mohammedan Cemetery at Happy Valley.

Another important event in our annals was the opening of the Travellers' Hostel (Musafirkhana), which took place on the 8th Feb. 1923 on which occasion I was privileged to preside. This additional building was erected at the instance of the late Khan Sahib Nawab Khan, formerly Assistant Superintendents of Police, by donations subscribed by the Community through him, for the purpose of affording additional accommodation to transient visitors of the

About 1.30 the same morning it appears that Chan Ying was cut by an European on the right side of her neck and half-an-hour later Chan Ho was attacked with a razor at Arsenal Street. Her jacket was cut about the neck.

Chan Chan Ho was attacked at 141, Wanchai Road. Blood was discovered on the staircase and in the street.

As Chan Hing alighted from a tram she was attacked by the defendant. This occurred in Arsenal Street.

The third complainant was set upon by the defendant at the Arsenal Street meat market. She was cut with a razor but she did not cry out.

On September 14, Gronert was charged at the police station.

On the previous evening, Gronert was examined by Dr. Thomas and was found to be sober.

FOR PROTECTION

Fuslier Thomas Hughes who was in company with the defendant, saw Gronert attack the women. Defendant told witness that he carried the razor for protection.

Hughes left defendant after the attack on one of the women at the corner of Arsenal Street and returned to Barracks.

TO BREAK WINDOWS

Questioned by Inspector Carey, Hughes stated that he had never seen the razor before. Witness stated that Gronert and himself left Barracks with the intention of breaking shop windows.

Acting Sub-Inspector D. C. Mac Donaid, who was on duty in the charge room when Gronert entered, gave formal evidence.

Medical evidence was given by Dr. G. H. Thomas, of the Government Civil Hospital.

Chan Chan-ho, in the witness box, declared that she recognised Gronert as he was the snorer of the two men. Witness stated that when she returned home she fainted and was later removed to hospital where she regained consciousness.

The hearing was adjourned.

Mohammedan Faith, free of charge.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Mr. M. Nemaze said:— You may recollect that the Maulana passed through the Colony not long ago on a mission to Japan, and gave several instructive and interesting lectures.

During his short stay in the Colony he took a very keen interest in all matters touching the welfare of the Community and he specially stressed the urgent need of an orphanage and I am glad to say that his suggestion of erecting a home for orphans within the precincts of the Mosque met with an enthusiastic response and general approval.

To-day's ceremony is the outcome of the Maulana's suggestion. The subscription list was opened in May last and it is to be hoped that subscriptions will continue to come in so as to enable this benevolent and praiseworthy project to be completed.

I therefore make an appeal to all who have not yet subscribed to contribute liberally towards a Fund which has for its object such benevolent aims as the establishment of an orphanage.

In addition to other features the Orphanage will provide every facility within our means for the purpose of giving the orphans a sound elementary and industrial education.

I believe that if certain conditions are observed the Government contributes a grant or subsidy to educational and benevolent establishments in this Colony and I venture to express the hope that our Orphanage will be able to fulfil the conditions to secure such a subsidy.

MAULANA'S SPEECH

His Eminence said that he found that the Colony was lacking an orphanage when he visited here last May. He suggested the erection of a building and was very glad that the Muslim community had responded. He said that helping others was one of the fundamental principles of Islam, and as there was but one humanity, all should treat the others as the other parts of their bodies. Towards the expenses of building the orphanage over $800 had been received out of the promised sum of $2,200.

His Eminence then declared the foundation stone well and truly laid.

It was extremely fortunate for us, too, that the "Islam" is a very well-built ship. This enabled her to withstand better the severe buffeting she received. For comfort from the point of view of the passengers she is unrivalled on the Straits run. Her 1st Class, 2nd Class and Deck Accommodation is excellent and a most notable feature is her Thermo-Tank system which keeps the air all over the ship wonderfully cool. The service on board is universally considered and courteous.

It astonishes her that anyone can follow the steps that she weaves on the floor. However, what I saw of the pupils fully justifies Miss Sykes' statement about the Chinese.

The pair I saw were: waiting in the best "Sykes and Andrew" manner—doing beautiful steps that gave pleasure to the eye.

Europeans generally speaking, do not only pay attention to the feet. The general deportment of the dancing couple is also noticed.

As Andrew states, "In Europe, people watch not only our steps, but the expression on our faces as we do them!"

When I left Pat and her partner, other couples were waiting to be shown dancing as it should be done. And all were Chinese, too. They see and must learn.
